PILOT

omg hi diary,

so my life has been thru a lot of ups and downs, but I've always managed to keep my head above water, for the most part. I just got a job at a really nice bar, which means cash tips and possible sugar daddies. Hello financial stability! Also just dumped my psycho boyfriend. Apparently, I love to get myself into toxic relationships, but no more, NO MORE!

It's like all going good, except my cat died yesterday because some hoe ran her over. I CANNOT FUNCTION WITHOUT A CAT. Thank god I have great friends, they help me thru the toughest days.

My roomie Kara is a huge Tik-toker. She got famous posting during Covid lockdown bc she had nothing else to do. She hates it now, so much.

David and Dave live in the apartment next to us. Yeah, I know they have similar names. I asked if they were dating, they said no.

David is a nice wholesome Jewish boy. He's really focused on his kosher meal-kit start up business. It's cute. He doesn't have a life though.

Dave used to be on Disney back in the day, and that's really all he's done. I hope he books something again one day so he can stop talking about 'the good ole days'.

We're all basically hot messes, so it worked out. Love trauma bonding. Yay.

I went ahead and bought another cat I found on craigslist. PETA don't come after me. I adopted my last ones, I just wanted one bougie one in my life before I die. I didn't make enough to pay rent because of the cat so Kara got pissed. She was yelling alot, I cried...then I left. It was really depressing. What's even more depressing is that I went back to my ex's that night....don't judge me. I'm already judging myself.
